Independent Auditor's Report

To the Members of the Board of Directors of the Centre for International Studies and Cooperation

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Centre for International Studies and Cooperation, which comprise the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2015, and the statements of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Centre for International Studies and Cooperation as at March 31, 2015, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Transactions during the year in "Cash in trust", "Term deposit in trust" and "Loans and interest receivable" are not disclosed in the statement of cash flows because the aggregate amount available in foreign currency is always the same. The change in the balance of the endowment represents the foreign exchange gain or loss of the amount available in Canadian dollars.

Notes to the financial statements

1. Description of the organization

The Centre for International Studies and Cooperation (the "Centre") is incorporated under Part III of the Companies Act of the province of Quebec.

In developing countries, the Centre takes part in activities to promote economic, social and cultural development. It does so through training, by sending volunteers and technical assistants to these areas and by undertaking projects, conducting research and publishing specialized works.

2. Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations ("ASNPO") and reflect the following significant accounting policies:

Financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are initially recognized at fair value when the Centre becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the financial instrument. Subsequently, all financial instruments are measured at amortized cost.

Transaction costs are added to the carrying value of the asset or netted against the carrying value of the liability and are then recognized over the expected life of the instrument using the straight-line method. Any premium or discount related to an instrument measured at amortized cost is amortized over the expected life of the item using the straight-line method and recognized in the statement of operations as interest income or expense.

With respect to financial assets measured at amortized cost, the Centre recognizes in the statement of operations an impairment loss, if any, when it determines that a significant adverse change has occurred during the period in the expected timing or amount of future cash flows. When the extent of impairment of a previously written-down asset decreases and the decrease can be related to an event occurring after the impairment was recognized, the previously recognized impairment loss shall be reversed in the statement of operations in the period the reversal occurs.

Revenue recognition

The Centre follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured. Endowment contributions are recognized as direct increases in net assets.

Contributions in kind (in the form of services rendered) are recorded at their estimated fair value and are reflected in the statement of operations because they are utilized for humanitarian purposes to the beneficiaries who are the end users, or are a part of the programs.

Foreign transaction recognition

The Centre accounts for expenses using the following accounting practices:

- (a) Capital expenditures incurred for overseas activities are charged as operating expenses, with the exception of the capital expenditures of regional offices, which are capitalized;
- (b) Most of the gains and losses resulting from exchange rate fluctuations are charged to the programs in which they are realized.

Notes to the financial statements

March 31, 2015

2. Accounting policies (continued)

Capital assets - tangible and intangible

Capital assets are accounted for at cost and amortized according to their useful lives using the straight-line amortization method based on the following terms and rates:

Buildings	2.5%
Furniture and equipment	20%
Computer equipment	25%
Automotive equipment	20%
Leasehold improvements	Lease term
Software	25%

Foreign currency translation

Monetary assets and liabilities are translated into Canadian dollars at the exchange rates in effect at year-end, whereas non-monetary assets and liabilities are translated at historical rates. The fair values are translated into Canadian dollars at the exchange rates in effect at year-end. Revenue and expenses are translated at average rates prevailing during the year. Resulting gains and losses are reflected in the statement of operations.

Investment in joint ventures

The Centre has elected to record its investments in joint ventures using the equity method.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, as well as disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Key components of the financial statements requiring management to make estimates include the useful lives of capital assets, allowance for doubtful accounts and certain accrued liabilities. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

3. Interest in joint ventures

These consortium projects generated revenue of $11,000,453 ($9,577,225 in 2014) and expenses of $9,578,598 ($7,965,400 in 2014).
